Hamburg, August 2021 – With its new onlineshop, luxury menswear retailer BRAUN Hamburg wins the international Red Dot Design Award in the "Brands & Communication - Best of the Best" category. The relaunch was carried out by the agency group Y1, which has already convinced the jury at the German Brand Awards in June 2021 in the category "Brand Communication - Web and Mobile".

"We require a new and contemporary online shop for our discerning clients – so we are very proud now that we have won two of the most prestigious design awards with the new website," comments Lars Braun, CEO of BRAUN Hamburg.

"The website is a symbiosis of shop and glossy magazine, reflecting BRAUN Hamburg's product diversity in a high-quality look," says Sebastian Wernhöfer of the e-commerce digital agency Y1 Digital AG. "We are very pleased that our work is honoured by another prestigious award!"

Designer worlds optimised for the luxury segment, large-scale magazine-style campaign shoots and exclusive expert tips characterise the online shop launched in 2020, which is part of a comprehensive multichannel and internationalisation strategy of BRAUN Hamburg.

For the Magento 2-based online shop, e-commerce specialist Y1 relies on a fully automated enterprise staging system for a smooth store operation. "For an online store like BRAUN Hamburg's, maximum performance, stability optimisation and extremely high failure safety are crucial," explains Wernhöfer. With the relaunch to Magento 2, BRAUN Hamburg increases its retrieval performance by 200 percent.

The fast and comprehensive integration of content and commerce is ensured by easy-to-use CMS functionalities. Automated merchandising is achieved by means of virtual item categorisation. Extended product maintenance and internationalisation mechanisms, uncomplicated country-specific content control, multichannel integration of shop stocks and delivery as well as the automation of logistics processes through the integration of Microsoft Navision were also key components of the relaunch.
